Wisconsin Passing Scores

Based on the results of a standard setting process conducted by Evaluation Systems of Pearson, the state superintendent has accepted their recommended passing score for Wisconsin as the initial passing score. The Foundations of Reading test for Wisconsin will be implemented in the same manner as the test was implemented in Massachusetts: an initial passing score will be used for a short time period followed by an escalation to a higher benchmark score. The following scores apply:

Initial Passing Score

Applicants who apply for Wisconsin Licensure on or after January 31, 2014 through August 31, 2014

Test	Test Section	Section Length	Panel-based Qualifying Score	Section Weight	Passing Score
90	Foundations of Reading	Multiple Choice	64	80%	229
		Open Response	11 of 16 points	20%

Benchmark Passing Score

Applicants who apply for Wisconsin Licensure on or after September 1, 2014

Test	Test Section	Section Length	Panel-based Qualifying Score	Section Weight	Passing Score
90	Foundations of Reading	Multiple Choice	67	80%	240
		Open Response	12 of 16 points	20%

The September 1 date was selected to correspond with the federal Title II Higher Education Opportunity Act (HEOA) reporting window for educator preparation program completer data.

Information for Educator Preparation Programs

- The DPI provided Evaluation Systems Group of Pearson with the name of every Wisconsin Educator Preparation Program (EPP) that prepares candidates for licensure in the licenses affected by this test
- Pearson requested an institution code number for each EPP; we provided your HEOA Title II code number
- The registration information on the website has all of your programs included at this time
- In order to receive test results for their candidates, each EPP will need to provide Pearson with the name of an individual that should receive the scores and have access to the Online Institution Score Reporting System. In October, 2013 Pearson will provide training on using a results analyzer to review candidate data.
- Attached please find two additional resources from Pearson that they wanted to share with EPPs: Alternative Testing Arrangements for Candidates with Disabilities Procedures and Policies Manual, and The Foundations of Reading Test for Wisconsin Data Exchange Format

Frequently Asked Questions

Will candidates who are adding on licenses need to take this test?

- The Foundations of Reading test is a content test. Initial licensure, additional licensure, and out-of-state licensure candidates must post passing scores on all the content tests in effect and required for the Wisconsin license they are seeking. Candidates applying for Wisconsin licensure on or after January 31, 2014 in any of the licenses affected by this test will need to post passing scores on this test.

Will candidate seeking an additional licensure need to take the reading test if it was not initially required?

- Candidates who are enrolled in an educator preparation program to complete an additional licensure in one of the affected licensure areas must post passing scores on this new test, if they apply for a Wisconsin license on or after January 31, 2014.

When will out-of-state applicants need to take this test?

- Out-of-state applicants applying for a Wisconsin license on or after January 31, 2014, will need to take the test and post passing scores in order to obtain Wisconsin licensure in the licenses affected.

Will candidates who are eligible for licensure (already completed an educator preparation program but have not applied for a license) need to take this test?

- Wisconsin educators who have already completed an educator preparation program will need to post passing scores on the test, if they apply for Wisconsin licensure on or after January 31, 2014. Educators that apply for Wisconsin licensure before January 31, 2014 will not need to post passing scores on this test.

Will the Wisconsin candidates who are student teaching Fall 2013 need to take this test?

- Wisconsin candidates who are student teaching Fall 2013 must complete a student teaching experience per 118.19 (3) that is a full semester following the cooperating school district's calendar. Wisconsin school districts complete their first semester of school in mid January; consequently, Fall 2013 student teachers will complete their program mid-January. Candidates will have a short window between completing their program and making application for a Wisconsin teaching license in the areas affected.

Will candidates who seek licensure through an Institution of Higher Education license-based-on-equivalency credential review process need to take this test?

- The Foundations of Reading test is a content test. In every pathway to licensure in Wisconsin, candidates must post passing scores on all the content tests in effect and required for the Wisconsin license they are seeking. Candidates applying for Wisconsin licensure on or after January 31, 2014 in any of the licenses affected by this test will need to post passing scores on this test.

Act 166 Language

ACT 166 SECTION 21. 118.19 (14) of the statutes is created to read:

118.19 (14) (a) The department may not issue an initial teaching license that authorizes the holder to teach in grades kindergarten to 5 or in special education, an initial license as a reading teacher, or an initial license as a reading specialist, unless the applicant has passed an examination identical to the Foundations of Reading test administered in 2012 as part of the Massachusetts Tests for Educator Licensure. The department shall set the passing cut score on the examination at a level no lower than the level recommended by the developer of the test, based on this state's standards.

(c) Any teacher who passes the examination under par. (a) shall notify the department, which shall add a notation to the teacher's license indicating that he or she passed the examination.

ACT 166 SECTION 28. Initial applicability.

(1) TEACHING LICENSE. The treatment of section 118.19 (14) (a) of the statutes first applies to an application for a teaching license received by the department of public instruction on January 1, 2014.

During the Biennial Budget Session, a free-standing motion was made on 5/21/2013 during the Joint Finance Committee to delay the initial applicability date. As a result of the motion, the budget bill as modified by the Joint Finance Committee is as follows:

SECTION 2365r. 2011 Wisconsin Act 166, section 28 (1) is amended to read:
[2011 Wisconsin Act 166] Section 28 (1) TEACHING LICENSE. The treatment of section 118.19 (14) (a) of the statutes first applies to an application for a teaching license received by the department of public instruction on January ~~1~~ 31, 2014.
