STUDENT LOAN FORGIVENESS

Student Loan Forgiveness through FedLoan Servicing

As a teammate of Advocate Health, a not-for-profit organization, you might be eligible for the Public Service Loan Forgiveness (PSLF) Program for Federal Direct Loans through the US Department of Education.

Public Service Loan Forgiveness

The PSLF Program forgives the remaining balance on your Direct Loans after you've made 120 qualifying payments under a qualifying repayment plan.

Temporary Extended PSLF

If you're ineligible for PSLF only because some or all of your payments were not made under a qualifying repayment plan, you may still be eligible for forgiveness through Temporary Expanded PSLF.

For additional detail, frequently asked questions and to apply, visit the US Department of Education website at <https://studentaid.gov/manage-loans/forgiveness-cancellation/public-service>.

To qualify for PSLF, you must

- be employed by a US federal, state, local or tribal government or not-for-profit organization;
- work a full-time schedule;
- have Direct Loans;
- repay your loans under an income-driven repayment plan; and
- make 120 qualifying payments.
